MOUNT WASHINGTON HOUSE.

The Subscriber, who formerly kept the United States

Hotel, and lately the Pavilion at Saratoga, would respectfully inform the Public that he has taken charge of the new and splendid House (recently erected on the memorable heights at South Boston) called the Mount Washington

House, and that he will be ready on the 11th instant, in the afternoon, and every succeeding afternoon during the week, to attend to Gentlemen who may wish to select rooms, and on Monday the 18th inst. be prepared for the reception of company.

The location of the House, for beauty and variety of prospect and purity of air, is not surpassed by any in this vicinity,

it commands an entire view of the Harbor, City and surrounding country, and though but within a few minutes ride or walk of the centre of the City, possesses all the retirement of an inland village.

The internal arrangements of the House are calculated to be of the first order, and every exertion will be used to give satisfaction to its inmates. The House contains about two hundred rooms, has spacious piazzas, a fine piazza, and on the top is built in the most thorough manner, and no expense has been spared to render it a safe, convenient and agreeable place of residence. The west wing is particularly appropriated for Ladies and Gentlemen with their families.

It is connected with the House spacious and convenient

Bathing Rooms. There is also attached to the establishment a large Stable, capable of accommodating 150 horses, and the facility of several omnibuses which will arrive and leave every half hour will be in readiness to convey passengers to and from the different Railroad depots, Steamboats, and business part of the City.

RAILWAY HOUSE, MILTON, MASS.

Has taken a lease of this extensive house, and newly refitted and furnished it throughout with every article necessary for the accommodation and comfort of travellers, convivial parties and boarders.

A beautiful grove with pleasant walks, a garden, swing, &c.

are connected with this establishment, and its proximity to the city renders it an inviting place of resort for those who would desire to spend a short time away from the confusion and sultry air of a crowded place of business.

The bowling alleys have been newly relaid, and good attendments provided.

The larder will be stored with the best of provisions, and such delicacies as the seasons afford. The bar will also be kept supplied with choice wines and liquors. Good stabling for horses.

The Dorchester and Milton line of stages leave for Boston

every morning and noon, and return at noon and evening.

WARREN HOUSE.

At the junction of Merrimack and Friend Streets.

This establishment having now gone through extensive and thorough repairs and additions, will compare with any other public house of its size. It has been furnished from top to bottom with new furniture, bedding, carpeting

&c., and is now open for the accommodation of travellers.

It is the intention to conduct the House after the mode of the most approved public houses—and every effort will be made personally, and by well tried assistants, to please his former customers and those who may visit the Warren House for the first time.

Extensive stables, with pure water, is attached to the establishment.

BOSTON MORNING POST.

SATURDAY, JULY 30, 1836.

U. S. MILITARY ACADEMY.

REPORT

Of the Board of Visitors invited by the Secretary of War to attend to the General Examination of the Cadets of the United States Military Academy.

HON. LEWIS CASS, Secretary of War.

SIR:—The undersigned have, in compliance with your request, attended the Annual Examination of the Cadets at this post, and herewith report the result of their investigation.

Having been instructed by their letter of appointment, to "make a full and free investigation in regard to the course of instruction both military and scientific, to the internal police, discipline and fiscal concerns of the institution," the Board of Visitors entered upon, and have conducted their examinations with the most rigid scrutiny. Every facility for this purpose, was afforded by the officers of the institution.

In order, most effectually, to discharge their duty, the board committed the different branches of their investigations to committees of their members, whose separate duty it became to examine into, 1st. the fiscal affairs; 2d. the internal police; 3d. the course of instruction; 4th. religious instruction; and 5th. the military education and discipline of the Academy.

These several committees have submitted to the Board the result of their respective investigations; and their reports, after having been sanctioned by the entire Board, are herewith transmitted to the Secretary of War, for his more particular information upon those several subjects.

1st. The fiscal affairs.—The Quartermaster's and Paymaster's departments were carefully examined, and satisfactory evidence furnished, that the sums appropriated had been properly disbursed with strict regard to the objects intended. The particular appropriations necessary for the year, are set forth in the estimate marked A, annexed to the report of the committee, and are recommended by this Board.

The Board believed it to be their duty to examine also into the fiscal affairs of the Cadets, and they are happy to express their full approval of the discipline and regulations upon this subject. Each Cadet receives, in pay and rations, $28 dollars per month, and no more.

With this sum he is obliged to pay his board and to provide all the furniture to his room—all his books, his clothing, and every necessary; the Government providing nothing for him but instruction, arms, and a room to lodge in. By a very salutary regulation $2 a month are reserved out of each Cadet's pay until he leaves the institution. Thus if he is dismissed, he has the means of returning to his family; if he graduates, the means of providing himself a proper uniform. The wisdom of this provision is apparent from the fact (which this Board has satisfactorily ascertained) that the greater part of the Cadets are of indigent parentage.

To preserve an entire equality among them in this respect, the regulation which forbids "any Cadet to apply for or receive money or any other supply from his parents, or from any person whosever, without permission from the Secretary of War," is strictly enforced. Rigid economy is therefore required from the Cadets to enable them with their pay to meet the necessary demands upon their funds. They are obliged to keep accurate accounts of their expenditures, and if any of their pay remains unexpended for necessities, they are not permitted to receive it, unless for very special purposes.

They are thus with great care taught lessons of order and economy, which become of the utmost value to them in after life, and which have already so distinguished the graduates of the Academy that the experiment of making them the disbursing agents of the Government on its public works has been eminently successful. And it is, doubtless, from this cause that they present the excellent example of having disbursed millions of the public funds without a dollars defalcation.

This is considered by the Board of Visitors as the legitimate result of the course of education at the academy. And it must be apparent to every one that the strict morality, high sense of honor, and the lessons of order and economy which they are taught, render them invaluable agents of the Government, and will compensate the nation for the very moderate expenditure which is incurred in their education.

2d. The Internal Police.—This comprehended, among other things, an inquiry into the provisions for the comfort and the regulations for the conduct of the Cadets

A Funny Affair.—Mr John Dillon, an eminent dentist in Hudson street, New York, whose manners and appearance, the Journal of Commerce says, "betokened one who was accustomed to good living, and its general attendant, good society; in a word, that he moved in the ranks of the opulent and respectable," was brought into Court on Thursday, to answer to the suit of a poor old woman, dressed in the apparel of an Irish peasantess, whose manners and address were equally coarse and vulgar as her scanty covering, and who claimed him as her husband. It appeared in evidence, that Mr and Mrs Dillon married for love some five and twenty years since, in Ireland, when Mr D. was a common laboring man, and Mrs D. a luxuriant peasantess of some nineteen or twenty years of age, possessing of the snug fortune of a pretty face and thirty-two pounds sterling. About a year and a half after this event John got tired of digging ditches, and, with very little ceremony, widowed his young wife by taking passage for America, and leaving her to provide for herself, and, of course, a little pledge. In about seventeen or eighteen years Mrs D. learned with surprise that her faithless husband was not only alive and well, but in the receipt of a very handsome income from his profession of a dentist. Mrs D. forthwith despatched her daughter to New York, who found her father with a second wife, whom he had married at Hartford. He took her into his family as a servant, and charged her not to peach. The temptation proved, however, too strong for the girl's restraining grace, and for blabbing the truth to Mrs Dillon the second, she was posted back to Ireland, to the care of Mrs Dillon the first, with all possible speed. In about two years she returned to New York, bringing with her a husband whom she had married in the interim, and applied to her father to abandon his present course of life, and do something for the plaintiff, his first love. His flat refusal did not discourage her—far, with her husband's assistance, she soon saved money enough to pay the old lady's passage over the big pond, which having been remitted to her, she forthwith made her appearance in Gotham about six weeks ago, and in propria persona made a claim on her husband for a restitution of conjugal rights, or a separate maintenance; and on his refusal, she summoned him to the Police Office, where he was ordered to find bail to answer to the very serious charge against him. The Journal of Commerce, from whose report we gather these facts, says—It would be difficult indeed to bring together two human beings whose appearance formed so strong and extraordinary a contrast as that of the well-fed, well-looking, well-dressed gentleman sitting inside the desk, and the apparently half-starved, miserably apparelled woman standing outside it. They seemed in fact to be the very antipodes of civil society.

Murder.—A white woman, named Sarah Johnson, with a colored male child about ten months old, recently applied to have her child taken into the New York almshouse: she stated that the child was her own—that she had walked from Cincinnati to New York with it in her arms—that she had respectable connections in Boston, to whom she was going, as soon as she could get rid of the boy. The commissioners offered to pay her passage to Boston, but she declared that before she would take the child with her, she would leave it in the street. She was committed to the city prison, which enraged her so that she appeared like a mad person. Soon after her committal, she commenced a course of the most brutal treatment to the child, throwing it about, beating and choking it, which finally resulted in its death. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the child came to its death from the ill treatment of its mother, who was forthwith fully committed for trial on a charge of murder. The papers say that from her assertions there are great doubts as to her belonging to this city. She is apparently about 23 or 24, and bears the marks of having lived an exposed life.

Bunker Hill Monument.—The New Bedford people are moving in good earnest in favor of the completion of this work. The meeting held there on Wednesday evening was numerously attended by citizens generally—of all classes, professions, and politics. If the patriotic example of New Bedford is promptly followed up by the other principal towns in the Commonwealth, and every one gives his mite, the monument may be finished before the arrival of another anniversary of the glorious event it is intended to commemorate. The idea which has gone abroad that a portion of the money which may now be bestowed will be devoted to defraying debts already incurred, is altogether erroneous. Every cent that may be contributed will be appropriated to defray expenses contracted hereafter. So far from the present contributors being obliged to pay the debts of their predecessors, the fact is something the reverse; for there is a large quantity of stone nearly ready to be laid already paid for, and a small sum of money will enable the Board of Managers to place it upon the monument.

Another Precedent for Expunging.—In looking over an old file of the Columbian Centinel the other day, we found the following in the number published March 15, 1815:—

From Washington.—4th March.—Congress rose at a late hour last night. Numerous appointments have been made—in last last 1 mentioned the nomination of General Dearborn to be Secretary at War. The runners of the Executive soon communicated to the President the disgust which the nomination had excited in the Senate, and he sent his Secretary to recall it; but he came too late. The Senate had negatived it, 20 to 10—but to save Executive feelings, they agreed to EXPUNGE THE RECORD.

This is a case which we have never before seen cited, and as the expunging was done by the same party who now declare it a violation of the Constitution to mutilate or alter any portion of the records of the Senate, we leave it to them to prove the consistency of their former conduct with their present declarations.

The New England Conference of Methodists has been in session for two weeks in Springfield. There were nearly two hundred ministers present. The Whigs say—"Some spirited discussions took place touching the subject of Abolition, but were conducted with perfect harmony, and apparent good feeling. There were many fine speakers present. Bishop Hedding presided over the conference. * * * It was gratifying to see the christian spirit that prevailed, and to witness the deep solicitude that was manifested for the moral renovation of man, extending throughout the conference, pervading the bosoms of all."

Many persons defer their visits to an exhibition until the last day. If any of our thousands of readers have neglected to visit the great picture of the Destruction of Jerusalem, designed by B. West, now exhibiting at the Diorama, we beg to tell them this is the last day, as it closes this evening, to make room for a magnificent View of the Interior of Westminster Abbey, at the time of the coronation of William IV., which will open during the ensuing week.

LATEST FROM BUENOS AYRES.

By the bark Elizabeth, Capt Baldwin, we have Buenos Ayres papers to the 4th June.—Journal of Com.
The Marquis de Vins de Peyssac, French Charge d'Affaires at Buenos Ayres, died suddenly on the 22d of May, aged about 60. His body was embalmed, and was to be conveyed to France. The Marquis was formerly Consul at the port of New York.
Governor Rosas has abolished the National Bank of Buenos Ayres.

The anniversary of Buenos Ayrean Independence (25th May) was celebrated as usual with much display. The weather was cold,—being the middle of winter. On the 31st of May there was hoar frost and thin ice.

The Budget laid before the House of Representatives for the current year, estimates the expenses of the ordinary service of the administration at 8,439,165 dollars, 2 reals; and the revenue 11,727,446 dollars, 13 reals. Thus, there were no other urgent attentions, the result of retrenchments. But as government proposed paying, in the course of the year, the capital and interest of back debt to the amount of 7,747,240 dollars, 2 reals, including £10,728 11s 10d of British claims for injuries inflicted on their commerce by national privateers during the war with Brazil, there will be a deficit of 4,458,959 dollars 2 5-8 reals. There will be the sale of 1200 square leagues of public lands, constituting about one-tenth part of that class of State property.

Advices from Valparaiso to 25th of March, state that Gen. Obregoso, President of Peru, in conjunction with his ally, General Santa Cruz, President of Bolivia, was endeavoring to re-organize Peru; and that it was thought Santa Cruz would exert all his influence to rid the country of revolutionary characters, and unite Bolivia with Peru, under three Federal States.
